

Dear music lover,

Thank you for the trust you have placed in us and congratulate you on the purchase of the WOLF VON LANGA® ORGANIC field-coil speakers.

Some extra notes

To ensure that you enjoy your new speaker for many years to come, we offer the following additional notes.

The cone is delicate

You are looking at a high-tech full-range system with an electromagnet. Every tiny detail of this speaker has been carefully designed and deserves special attention. This includes the cone. It is made of thin, long-fiber material and is sensitive to damage of any kind. It is best to avoid touching it altogether and, if cleaning is necessary, use only a soft dry brush. Also avoid direct sunlight, as this could cause discoloration and accelerated aging.

The motor is open

When installed, the cone and the motor is set back and is normally well protected. It's best to keep children and curious individuals from touching the diaphragm or pressing on it in any way. Also, there are no moving parts on the metal components visible from the outside, and touching them is more likely to cause contamination. Never bring small magnetical metal particles near it, especially when the speaker is turned on.

The diffuse field tweeter and the stands are optional

To further enhance your listening experience, we offer two additional options.

1. A rear-firing super-tweeter can create a diffuse field that further enhances the system's natural character. This depends on the nature of the rear wall and the distance from it. You can also easily change the polarity by reconnecting the jumper wires. It's worth experimenting with this. If in doubt, ask your dealer!
2. Two feet under each speaker increase stability, especially on soft carpets and similar surfaces. Optionally, we offer a set of feet that can be screwed on from below, featuring height-adjustable knobs. Try out the stainless steel tips with and without the accessories if you'd like.

Clean the surface.

Again, avoid locations with direct sunlight. The surface of the speaker enclosure is best cleaned with a very soft, slightly damp (distilled water) microfiber cloth. If there are any manufacturing marks visible on the surface, they can usually be removed by rubbing with a soft microfiber cloth. We make every effort to deliver a 100% mirror-like surface, but sometimes—especially when held up to very bright light—tiny spots or hairline scratches may be visible. We have classified these as “invisible” in their as-delivered condition, and they do not constitute grounds for a complaint.

Please avoid also touching the stain-resistant WOLF VON LANGA copper logo, as fine fibers tend to get caught on the edges.

If you have any questions, please contact your dealer or us by phone or email.

Please do not forget to turn on the power supply before listening to music.

We hope you enjoy your new system and always have a great listening experience!

We're sure you've purchased one of the best speakers in the world, regardless of the price.
